Notice Regarding Thorough Implementation of Measures to Prevent Infection
during Golden Week, etc.

A state of emergency has been declared for the Tokyo metropolis from April 25 to May 11, 2021, based on the Act on Special Measures for Pandemic Influenza and New Infectious Diseases Preparedness and Response. Accordingly, TUMSAT is implementing measures such as conducting online lectures, refraining from extracurricular activities, and promoting telework. As we are about to enter the Golden Week extended holiday, I humbly request that you cooperate with measures to prevent the spread of infections, paying particular attention to the following points.

Depending on the infection situation, we may continue to conduct online lectures, refrain from extracurricular activities etc. at the discretion of the university even after the state of emergency is lifted.

- Refraining from nonessential outings

Please avoid nonessential outings and travel, including during the daytime, and avoid the “three Cs” (closed spaces, crowded places, and close-contact settings) even when going out somewhere nearby.

Please postpone or refrain from travel to and from regions where infections are spreading or have online family reunions instead of returning to your family home. Also, in addition to thoroughly implementing basic measures to prevent infection (sanitizing your hands, wearing a mask, etc.), please be careful to avoid actions that may cause you or others around you to become infected, such as dining in large groups.

- Students’ part-time jobs

Please confirm that health monitoring, measures to prevent infection, etc. are thoroughly implemented at your part-time workplace and make a decision based on due consideration of the necessity.

① If you are employed at a part-time job, please take thorough measures against infection such as checking your body temperature and never removing your mask.

② Please refrain from part-time jobs with a high risk of infection, such as those where you cannot avoid the “three Cs” (closed spaces, crowded places, and close-contact settings).

- Health management

Please keep track of your health on a daily basis according to notices from the university.

If you suspect that you may have become infected with COVID-19, please contact the university immediately.

Notices from the university are posted on the “University response to the novel coronavirus disease 2019 \(COVID-19\)” page on the university’s website.
