What is OQEANOUS Plus Program?

OQEANOUS Plus Program is a student exchange program in Asian countries at graduate level based on the credit transfer system with quality assurance. This quality assurance is the same level as internationally recognized credit transfer system (Bologna Process). The purpose of the program is to develop high-level professionals in the field of oceans, and to promote mutual development of education among Asian countries.

The consortium contains Shanghai Ocean University (China), Korea Maritime & Ocean University (South Korea), Chulalongkorn University and Kasetsart University (Thailand), IPB University (Indonesia), and Universiti Malaya (Malaysia)
